How do the Odds Work? With every bet you place, you'll see a + or a - sign in front of the number.

How are Odds Determined: The odds are initially determined by the linesmakers or oddsmakers in Las Vegas.

Perhaps a key player is injured? These are all things that could signal a shift in your thinking, but it's important to remember we don't only want to bet just because other people are betting.

However, if you bet on an underdog with odds of +250 then number after the positive sign (250 in this case) signifies the amount you could win if you place a $100 bet.

Should you bet the over and the Warriors defeat the Knicks 125-110, you're a winner.

That's why the odds are higher and your profit can be greater, but they are also much harder to hit and is the type of bet you shouldn't make too often.

You can place bets on either the Moneyline or the Spread, just like we discussed above, but just at what will happen mid-way through the game.
