Making $100 a day as a professional sports bettor is most possible with this strategy.

Please don't misunderstand me; every motivated bettor who starts value betting is not guaranteed to make $100 or even more a day.

Value betting is based on the same principle as the strategies already mentioned.

These bets won't be the easiest to win, and you won't make money on every bet you place.

But if you're willing to learn and gain experience in the long run, you have the chance to become a professional bettor.

If you want to be in that 2%-4%, your only task is to learn a strategy that is successful.

Professional bettors are taking advantage of these loopholes and mistakes that can't guarantee a decent profit in the long run.

How much do professional sports bettors make?

Over/Under NFL moneyline odds ask bettors to pick the winner of the game.

Moneyline bets are the most straightforward method of betting on NFL football.

A +110 moneyline underdog has an implied probability of 47.

This underdog bet will return $1.

Parlay bets require two or more different bets to be tied together.

If you love playing video games, you will be able to identify with Rewards1 quite well. That's because, you can earn game codes if you don't want to redeem the standard rewards available on online rewards sites.

Payout methods: PayPal, gift cards

It has a low threshold of $5, which makes it very easy to start withdrawing your earnings. Aside from surveys, you can also join prize draws where you have the chance to win significant prizes.
