Live betting is a relatively new development in gambling.

The ability to place many bets during a single event has changed the nature of placing bets.

Increasingly, online gambling is legal around the world.

However, in-play betting isn't necessarily allowed.

Bets could be allowed between quarters of the game, after drives, or even after plays.

In-play betting, or live betting, is gambling that happens during a live game.

Nonetheless, online and live betting are becoming increasingly legalized, generating record profits.
